

New House, Same Family

Ingerman's Development and Property Management Teams Are Now Part of MRK!

For more than 30 years, Ingerman has built a reputation for quality, care, and consistency. That commitment isn't changing. What is changing is our ability to do more.

Ingerman's Development and Property Management teams are now part of MRK — a national leader in affordable housing known for its bold vision, community-first values, and relentless commitment to innovation.

Ingerman's Development and Property Management teams will now operate under MRK's shared vision and leadership structure, maintaining the expertise and relationships you know while expanding the platform's ability to deliver and manage high-quality affordable housing.

Ingerman Construction will remain and continue independently.

What This Means

- The same experienced development and property management professionals you know are now part of the MRK family.
- Expanded resources, scale, and long-term support
- Continued focus on quality, accountability, and community impact

We are building on the foundation you've trusted for decades—now with greater reach, expanded expertise, and a new name. In this next chapter, we will continue delivering exceptional housing and building strong partnerships that create lasting impact on the communities we serve.
